

MARKET TOUR AND LOCAL COOKING CLASS

Imagine waking up in your Italian villa and heading out not as a simple tourist, but accompanied by a true local host: your Cesarina. She will guide you through the scents, colors, and stories of your holiday destination, just like a friend from the area.

Your experience begins with a walk through the local market or among the historic shops of the town center, where producers and shopkeepers greet each other by name and where you discover the best ingredients of the day. Here, you'll learn to recognize truly authentic products, the ones that end up on Italian family tables.

With your basket full of local specialties, you'll step into the Cesarina's home for a hands-on, convivial cooking class. Together, you'll prepare three typical regional dishes: an appetizer, fresh handmade pasta, and a dessert, following recipes passed down from generation to generation.

Then comes the best moment: sitting down at the table like true locals. Lunch becomes a shared experience, accompanied by an Italian-style aperitivo with prosecco and snacks, local wines, water, and coffee.

This is not just a cooking class; it's a true journey into Italian life, combining a market visit, a stroll through the historic center, cooking in a private home, and an authentic meal.

It's the perfect way to make your stay in a villa an even deeper experience, full of encounters, flavors, and memories you'll take home with you.
