

TUSCAN MERENDA & WOODEN BOARD PAINTING

Discover what Italian children used to enjoy as an afternoon snack, long before the arrival of packaged treats. In Tuscany, simple, everyday ingredients were all it took to create something delicious! This experience brings a taste of this authentic local tradition to your villa, combining nostalgic flavours, convivial moments and a touch of creativity.
The experience begins with a traditional Tuscan merenda, featuring a selection of simple yet delicious snacks enjoyed by generations: pane strusciato con pomodoro, fresh bread rubbed with ripe tomato; bread drizzled with extra virgin olive oil, salt and pepper; bread with butter and sugar; and bread with wine and sugar. Unusual combinations by today's standards, perhaps, but deeply rooted in local food memories and traditions.
A delightful opportunity to discover how an afternoon snack was once enjoyed, using simple ingredients found in every Tuscan home. The merenda is accompanied by refreshing fruit juice, coffee or a glass of Prosecco.
After this little journey into the flavours of the past, creativity takes centre stage. Guided by a local artist, participants will have the opportunity to paint their own wooden chopping board, transforming it into a unique, handmade souvenir of their time in Tuscany.
No artistic experience is required: step-by-step guidance and a little imagination are all that is needed to create a personal keepsake to take home.
A taste of tradition, a touch of Tuscan creativity and a special memory to treasure. Because discovering Tuscany is not just about the places to visit, but also about the simple things people eat, create and share.
