

CHEESE FACTORY & SUPERTUSCAN WINERY

If you want to explore an area of Tuscany that is off the beaten path and offers excellent food and wine, this is the experience for you. Join this exciting journey through the Pisan Hills, not far from the sea, in the area of the Santa Luce Nature Reserve.

Visit a renowned cheese factory and learn the secrets behind a variety of cow, goat, and sheep's milk cheeses. Enjoy a tasting of freshly made cheeses, followed by a delicious lunch paired with local specialities.

In the afternoon, head to a winery known for its exceptional Super Tuscan wines, situated in Northern Maremma, about 180 meters above sea level. Given the vicinity of the sea, their soil varies from pure calcareous and marine origin, to stony and arid of magmatic-volcanic origin and some deep-sea sedimentary clay. This gives the possibility to create unique balanced, structured and quality wines. Explore the vineyards and cellars, and enjoy a tasting of the estate's finest wines.
