

PITIGLIANO-SOVANA-SORANO

Discover Pitigliano, Sovana, and Sorano with a Journey into the Heart of Tuscany, discover the most charming and authentic villages in the province of Grosseto, where history, culture, and natural beauty come together in an unparalleled experience.

Pitigliano, known as “The Little Jerusalem”, is a delightful town that preserves a centuries-old Jewish tradition dating back to the 16th century. Sorano, a true gem of medieval architecture, rises majestically on a tufa rock, with its narrow streets and local artisan shops.

Sovana, on the other hand, is a village where time seems to stand still, featuring a beautiful Romanesque cathedral and a fascinating Etruscan necropolis.

These three towns, known as the "Tuff Towns" (Borghi del Tufo), are built on volcanic rock formations and offer the perfect combination of unspoiled nature, captivating history, and unique cultural traditions. Wander through ancient streets, discover local craftsmanship, and immerse yourself in the authenticity of Tuscany at its best.

Don't miss the chance to visit Pitigliano, Sovana, and Sorano—an unforgettable experience awaits.
